Distinguished Citizen

Dave Kirschner

Keyano College is pleased to announce Dave Kirschner as the recipient of the 2010 Distinguished Citizen Award. Kirschner is a long-time community member, who has been working diligently for the Wood Buffalo region for over three decades.

He started a successful transportation and supply company in 1978 and has been actively involved in the community along with his wife Iris while raising six children. School councils, social agencies, sports, Keyano Theatre, church, and the Fort McMurray Chamber of Commerce are just a few of the many endeavours which have kept him busy over the years.

He is the past President of the Fort McMurray/Athabasca Conservative Association, a founding member of the Food Bank, and has been involved with the Oil Sands Secretariat. He and Iris own the Kirschner Family Corporation, a group which manages commercial, residential and industrial properties in town. He is also a volunteer member of the Abram's Land Steering Committee, which is responsible for new land development uptown, sits on the Northern Alberta Development Council and participates in several committees with the Oil Sands Developers Group.

2010 Valedictorian

Felicia Dion and Randi Roy

They have been best friends for six years, moved to Fort McMurray together from Ontario, lived in the same house for a while, and are now graduating from the Nursing Program at Keyano College together as Co-Valedictorians – Randi Roy and Felicia Dion have an unbreakable bond and they are also Keyano's first Co-Valedictorians.

"This is an honour, especially given this is the 25th anniversary of the Nursing Program also," said Dion, who was asked to be the Valedictorian by the College, but recommended Roy's name as she was leaving for a Mexico vacation. Roy in turn suggested they share the honour.

"I'm excited. It is an honour to be able to represent your class," said Roy. Dion and Roy have a 3.8 and a 3.5 GPA respectively.

Distinguished Alumni – Wall of Fame

Mayor Melissa Blake

“Mom, can boys be mayors?” When a sixth-grader asked his mother this question after meeting with Mayor Melissa Blake during a class visit – you can be sure the local leader was doing her part in being a solid role model for the Wood Buffalo region.

Mayor Blake has been an inspiring leader for a decade now, serving two terms as Council Member and currently serving her second term as Mayor after being re-elected in 2007. She sought public office to effect change, to be able to improve this place she has been calling home for 28 years. “My heart is in Wood Buffalo. From Fort Chipewyan to Conklin, and everywhere in between, I want to bring about positive change,” Mayor Blake says.

She graduated from Keyano College in 1992 after completing the Business Administration program in affiliation with Athabasca University, securing her degree two years later from Athabasca.

“From business to logistics my Keyano education gave me multiple exposures, all of which have tied-in very well with my various portfolios – from working for Syncrude Canada Ltd., to serving in public office,” explains Mayor Blake.

She says the Keyano advantage of small class sizes meant more interaction with instructors and being in a diverse environment meant getting to know her community better.

“My sister was enrolled in a University when I joined the College, and we were always comparing notes. I realized how great it was to be at Keyano because of the more personal relationships due to small class sizes,” Mayor Blake added.

Mayor Blake’s zeal to promote Wood Buffalo has been noticed across the nation. Alberta Venture Magazine has twice placed the Mayor on their “Top 50 Most Influential People” list and Global Television named her as a Woman of Vision in 2006.

Among other accolades, she has received the Canadian Hadassah Woman of Achievement 2008 Award, the 2008 Distinguished Alumni Award from Athabasca University and Fort McMurray Chamber of Commerce Sustainable Community Recognition Award in 2008.

The Letter

Music and Lyrics by: Vivian Baptista

This year went by so fast
I bet you didn't even see
So many memories to remember
And all the friends that turn into be family

Your journey is just starting
So many things still to happen
I know it sounds a bit scary
But love, laugh and live, enjoy your life!

Never give up when things get hard
Lift up your face, and look upon high
There is someone that cares for you
Believe and you will see your dream come true

Some of you will be moving
Some of you will be staying
Never forget where you started
And all the barriers that you overcome

Sometimes life will be frustrating
And you'll feel like there is no one beside you
But one thing I want to let you know
You will never be, never be alone!

Ending:

These years went by so fast, but please keep it in your heart forever.
